

In June 2003, a 14-year-old boy from Manchester, referred to as “John,” created multiple fake online identities to manipulate his 16-year-old friend, “Mark,” into attempting to k*ll him. After surviving the attack, John became the first person in UK history charged with inciting his own m*rd3r.

